

DO NOT DISTURB!

This SEA LION may be suffering from Leptospirosis, a bacterial infection of the kidneys. In such cases, animals appear very lethargic and unable or unwilling to move their hind limbs. It is possible for infected animals to recover from this disease if given plenty of opportunity to rest. There is no option to rescue and rehabilitate these animals in Oregon.

This disease, and many others, is transmissible to humans and dogs.

DO NOT TOUCH !

Stay at least 50 yards away.

It is a violation of federal and state laws to harass, disturb, touch, or feed marine mammals.

Please report violations to the Oregon State Police. 1 800 452 7888